

A BLAST OF DEATH
ACROSS THE STATEWISCONSIN WAS WIND SWEEP
YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Two People Killed at Fennimore Last Night—Fatalities in Other Parts of Wisconsin—Hurricane Killed Fifty-Two People in Iowa—The Damage Done at Other Points.

Fennimore, Wis., May 4.—A cyclone that was freighted with death, swept over the country adjacent to this place last night, and left a trail of devastation behind it. The dead:

MARSDEN, GEORGE.
MARSDEN, MISS ANNA.

The worst of the storm was felt along the state line. It was in this vicinity that the Marsdens lived. Their bodies were recovered after the gale had spent its force and taken home. Many houses and barns were leveled and the loss of property will be considerable.

Green Bay, Wis., May 4.—Last evening at Seymour lightning struck the house of John Kitchenmeister, killing the owner instantly and seriously injuring his wife. In the evening a terrific hurricane and rain-storm passed over the city. Several houses in the vicinity of the city were struck by lightning with little damage and no casualties as far as is known.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., May 4.—A fine rain fell last night accompanied by heavy hail. No damage was done beyond breaking some windows. The rain is a great help to crops.

Baraboo, Wis., May 4.—Jasper Chlup of Richland Center was instantly killed at Lodi yesterday afternoon by lightning.

Manitowish, Wis., May 4.—A great storm passed over the village of Kellerville about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and John Anderla, 14 years old, who was lying in bed, was killed by a bolt of lightning.

Waupaca, Wis., May 4.—Four thunderstorms, each with an abundant shower of rain, passed over this region yesterday. Vegetation never looked better.

FIFTY TWO KILLED IN IOWA

Frightful Loss of Life in the Prohibition State—The Gale's Work.

Sioux City, Ia., May 4.—At least fifty-two people are believed to have been killed in a terrific cyclone that passed over this part of Iowa yesterday afternoon. Some persons estimate the death toll at 200 to 300, but no one can know how great the loss of life is or how extensive the damage until the work of investigation can be prosecuted in the daylight. Three school-houses are known to have been demolished, two teachers and several pupils killed, and scores of other buildings have been wrecked. Those known to be dead are: CHILD of A. Verhoff; killed near Sioux Center.

HOGGIE, MAMIE S., and five brothers; killed near Sioux Center.

KERSTER, MRS. JOHN, near Sioux Center; her child blown away and not yet found.

MARSDEN, ANNA, teacher in the Coombs school, near Ireton.

MARSDEN, GEORGE, brother to Anna, teacher in another school near Ireton.

MARSDEN, CHARLES, killed near Sioux Center.

POST, MRS., killed near Sioux Center.

SCHWERDEFEGGER, RUDOLPH, 21 years old; killed by lightning near Sutherland.

STIMMER, PETER, killed in his house near Laurens by lightning.

TWO CHILDREN of L. B. Coombs, killed near Sioux Cen.

WATTERSON, MRS. JOHN, killed near Sibley.

The path of the cyclone seems to have been twelve miles long and from three-quarters of a mile to three miles wide. It probably first centered at a point about three miles southwest of Sioux Center, Sioux county, and blew down farm houses, barns, and outbuildings. The Sioux City & Northern agent at Sioux Center reports that three school-houses, three, five, and seven miles from that town were blown down at about 3:15 p. m., and that two teachers and three pupils were killed. Also reports two other women killed and fifteen persons injured. Train on that road just arrived here and the conductor cannot confirm these reports, although he saw houses and barns blown down and unroofed along the track north of Sioux Center.

The first course of the storm cloud was northeast, crossing the Sioux City & Northern track one and one-half miles north of Sioux Center and going a mile east; there it turned and its direction was northwest until it again reached the railway, when it went north to two miles along the track, crossing to the west side again. Then it seemed to have taken a northeasterly direction until it struck the town of Perkins, where it blew down three houses. Aid and doctors were called for from Orange City, the county seat.

Seven miles southwest of Sioux Center, Miss Anna T. Marsden, a teacher in the Coombs school, and two of her pupils were found dead.

Two miles north of there her brother, also a school teacher, was killed.

The Sioux City & Northern tracks between Perkins and Doon are washed out for several miles. Dispatches from Sioux Center at 8:30 p. m., say that besides the three school-houses at least twenty residences and barns were swept away. Two women were found dead about 6 o'clock not far from the point where one of the school buildings stood.

One man who arrived in Sioux Center late in the evening reported his house was blown away and his family killed. He himself escaped and reports that at least 200 or 300 people must have been killed.

The parties sent out from Hull, Sioux Center, and Orange City, neighboring towns, have recovered a number of bodies, although the exact number cannot be learned. It is said Perkins, a small town, small town between Sioux Center and Doon, was directly in the path of the storm and was wiped out almost entirely. Physicians already have set out from Hull, Orange City, and Sioux Center, but are finding every conceivable obstacle to keep them from reaching the scene of the storm. Late in the evening news was received from Sibley to the effect a storm struck there about 6 p. m., destroying the house of John Watterson, killing Mrs. Watterson, and injuring Watterson and his son. No names can yet be learned of the people injured about Sioux Center and Perkins.

The Sioux City and Northern train brought in several passengers who witnessed the storm. They reported thirteen bodies had been brought into Sioux Center at 6 o'clock. They estimated fifty people must have been killed. The Northern train barely escaped a smash-up near Doon, but was stopped by section men before it passed upon the dangerous railway.

Rudolph Schwerdefeger, 21 years old, was killed by lightning near Sutherland, Iowa.

Peter Stimmer, a farmer, near Laurens, Iowa, was killed in his house by lightning.

R. E. Arnold, a traveling man for a Chicago house, who was on the train, says he saw the storm where it passed a half-mile south of Sioux Center. He says fourteen people were killed near there. He says he saw the body of a school teacher and two children who lost their lives.

THE STORM'S WORK.

Iowa People and Property Suffer from Its Fury.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 4.—Two inches of rain fell here in one hour yesterday afternoon. For a time the storm had the appearance of a cloud burst. Wheat over the state is six inches high and corn is generally up. West Sioux Falls, a suburb three miles from here, and vicinity, present a forlorn appearance. Late in the afternoon a cyclone dropped to earth and after devastating a mile square went into the air again.

The big iron bridge was tossed into the river, a big resort was unroofed and twisted, the carriage works, two buildings, and 100 completed buggies were wrecked. The chain mortising works, a three-story building, 300x75 feet, lost the whole third story. The oatmeal mill and water works pump house were unroofed. Barns, trees six inches in diameter, sheds, windmills, and chimneys in reach were twisted and demolished. The damage is placed at $50,000. A man named Thur is the only person hurt. He sustained a severe cut in the face and had his nose broken.

Ireton, Ia., May 4.—A destructive cyclone passed near this place, going in a northeast direction, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Four miles north-east of Ireton it struck Coombs school-house, destroying it and killing the teacher, Miss Anna Marsden, injuring all the children more or less, three, it is thought, fatally. About three miles further on it destroyed another school-house and killed the teacher, George Marsden, brother of Anna Marsden, and fatally injured three of the children. Near here John Koster's house was struck, his wife killed, and one child blown away and cannot be found. Several other houses and barns were destroyed, but full particulars have not yet been obtained.

Lemars, Ia., May 4.—A cyclone passed through Sioux County about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was seen by passengers from the train between Sheldon and Alton. Near Sioux Center, twenty-five miles north of Lemars, several houses and farm buildings were destroyed and a number of people killed.

Delmar, Ia., May 4.—A heavy thunderstorm with considerable rain passed over here last night. The barn of Mrs. Johanna Ryan, near here, was struck by lightning and burned. Thirty-six head of cattle and thirty-eight sheep were killed by the stroke and burned.

The loss is $2,500; insured for $1,000. Near Almont M. Shaddock's barn was struck and burned with its contents, including some live stock; loss about $2,000, partly insured. George Borne, several miles south, had a barn and contents struck and burned.

Clinton, Ia., May 4.—A severe electrical storm passed over Clinton County early yesterday morning. John Ryan's barn, with thirty-six horses and forty sheep, was destroyed. All the barns, sheds and outbuildings, with contents on the farms of Mason Shaddock and George Browne were also destroyed by fire, caused by lightning. Total loss, $6,000.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 4.—At 6:30 o'clock last evening a windstorm with almost cyclonic force struck this city and did much damage to property. Many small buildings were blown to pieces and windows of several fine residences were smashed in and contents of the houses damaged by rain. No lives were lost.

Sibley, Ia., May 4.—A cyclone near here yesterday destroyed Charles Blackmer's barns. George Rossburg's buildings are all blown away. Serious damage has been done to other buildings.

Sultan Orders Libel Suits.

Varna, May 4.—The sultan is said to be very indignant over some of the reports of Armenian atrocities sent to London newspapers by their correspondents on the scene. It is reported that he will require the accused officials to bring suits for libel. He has instructed Rustem Pasha, Turkish ambassador to England, to arrange forthwith for the legal proceedings.

German Enterprise in Africa.

Berlin, May 4.—A contract has been signed to organize an Anglo-German company which will have powerful support. The object of this company is to acquire 1,000,000 acres of land in southwest Africa, with a frontage of 200 miles on the Orange river and within navigable distance of the coast.

Rebels Lose a Battle.

Madrid, May 4.—A dispatch received here from Havana says that in an encounter between Spanish troops and insurgents at Santa Cruz six rebels were killed. The troops also surprised the rebels near Baracoa and killed three of them.

MANAGERS AND MEN
BOTH STAND FIRMSHEBOYGAN'S STRIKE CANNOT BE EASILY SETTLED

The Employees of the Sheboygan Shoe Company, the American Manufacturing Company and the Balance of the Phoenix Chair Company's Force Quit This Morning.

Sheboygan, May 4.—The strike at this place keeps spreading and there is little hope that the men and their employers will arrive at any understanding that will end in settlement. All the workmen in the factories of the Sheboygan Shoe Company and the American Manufacturing Company as well as the balance of the employees of the Phoenix Chair company went out this morning. Things are quiet but both sides are determined to stick the matter out.

FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The Chief Executive Writes on Matters of National Interest.

Jackson, Miss., May 4.—Gov. Stone has given out for publication a letter from President Cleveland, of which the following are extracts:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., April 26.—The Hon. J. M. Stone, Governor, etc.—My Dear Sir: Your letter of the 21st inst., is at hand. I never had an idea of building up or fostering a personal following, but so far as politics should properly influence me in making appointments I have tried to be democratic and not proscriptive."

"There are, however, some officials who devote themselves so industriously to vilification and abuse of those under whom they hold office as to indicate that their fidelity cannot be trusted for the performance of their duties in a manner creditable to the administration, and who apparently assume they may spend the time they owe the public service in doing political mischief. In the interest of good government such officials must not be surprised if they are summarily dealt with."

"I have never ceased to wonder why the people of the South, furnishing as they do, products which are exported for gold, should be willing to submit to the disadvantages and loss of silver monometallism, and to content themselves with a depreciated and fluctuating currency, while permitting others to reap a profit from the transmutation of the prices of their productions from silver to gold. I hope our southern fellow-citizens will be permitted to see the pitfall which is directly before them who madly rush toward the phantom light of free, unlimited and independent silver coinage. If we, who profess fealty to the Democratic party, are sincere in our devotion to its principles, and if we are right in believing that the ascendancy of those principles is a guarantee of personal liberty, universal care for the rights of all, non-sectarian, American brotherhood and manly trust in American citizenship in any part of our land, we should study the effects upon our party and consequently upon our country of a commitment of the national Democracy to this silver hallucination."

"If we should be forced away from our traditional doctrine of sound and safe money, our old antagonists will take the field which we abandoned and neither the evils of reckless Democrats nor reckless Republicans will avail to stay their easy march to power. This is as plain as anything can possibly be. It therefore becomes the duty of every Democrat, wherever he may be, to consider what such a victory would mean; and in the light of a proper conception of its results he should deliberately shape his course."

NICARAGUAN SETTLEMENT.

Terms Upon Which Great Britain Will Withdraw Its Troops.

London, May 4.—It is officially announced that as a result of the communications which have been exchanged between the Earl of Kimberley and Senor Medina, Salvadoran Minister here, acting for Nicaragua, the British government has agreed, if the Nicaraguan government addresses a note to Rear Admiral Stephenson accepting the terms of the British ultimatum and undertaking, under the guarantee of the Republic of Salvador, that the indemnity be paid in London within a fortnight, that the British squadron will be withdrawn from Nicaraguan waters.

The Associated Press further learns the present government of Great Britain would not view with disfavor a United States protectorate over the whole of Central America. Indeed, during the present investigations the Earl of Kimberley said that under certain circumstances it would perhaps be better for the United States to proclaim a protectorate over Central America and make herself responsible for the acts of its people.

STIRS OSHKOSH UP.

Bullet Came Singing Through the Door and Inflicted a Wound On Her Shoulder That May Prove Fatal—No Clue As to Who Fired the Gun.

Oshkosh, May 4.—Oshkosh is much excited, today, over a mysterious shooting. Mrs. George Simpson was dangerously wounded as she lay in bed last night, a bullet crashing through the door and inflicting a wound in her shoulder that is of a very dangerous, if not fatal nature. No one knows where the shot came from or any reason why it should be fired.

JAPAN SAID TO BE READY FOR WAR

Refuses China's Request for Another Extension of Time.

Tokio, Japan, May 4.—China has asked that the time for changing ratifications of the treaty of peace at Chefoo, set for May 8, be extended ten days. Japan has sternly refused to grant the request. The Mikado has called out the entire body of reserves, and the Hokkaido garrisons have been heavily reinforced.

New York, May 4.—The foregoing dispatch foreshadows a refusal by Japan to regard Russia's protest against that part of the peace treaty which takes the Liao Tung Peninsula from China and gives it to Japan. Russia has demanded that Japan answer the note of protest in which France and Germany joined by May 7—next Tuesday. The date set for the exchange of treaty ratifications at Chefoo is May 8—next Wednesday. China asked that the date of exchanging ratifications be put off until May 18. Japan peremptorily refused to postpone the time of making the treaty effective, showing that her mind is made up as to what course to pursue.

The calling out of all the reserves is equivalent to putting about every able bodied man in Japan under arms. The reinforcing of the Hokkaido garrisons means that Japan intends to be ready for hostilities with Russia. Hokkaido, "Circuit of the Northern Sea," is the department name of the Island of Yeso or Yezo, which lies north of the main island of Japan, Nifuro, and faces the southeastern coast of Siberia, between three and four hundred miles away. Vladivostok, Russia's great military and naval station on the Pacific, is opposite the lower or southern end of Yeso, across from Hakodate and Matsmai.

Washington, May 4.—It is the belief among officials that serious European complications over the Japan-China settlement will be averted. The interview of the Japanese minister at Paris to the effect that Japan was chiefly concerned in a sufficient indemnity and commercial concession is understood to sum up the situation. The payment of pensions to the families of Japanese soldiers and the cost of maintaining or returning about 2,000 Chinese prisoners now on hand makes an increased indemnity quite desirable.

TO REPEL THE JAPANESE.

Territory Around the City of Peking Flooded by Chinese.

Shanghai, May 4.—In accordance with a special imperial edict issued in order to prevent the possibility of the Japanese entering Peking, the Chinese have cut the river embankments near Peking. Much territory has been flooded and hundreds of Chinese have been drowned. It is reported in Tien-Tsin that the German syndicate which took up the indemnity has failed to negotiate a loan for China, and it is stated that the Hong Kong and Shanghai bank is making arrangements for this loan.

Silver Invitations Not Drafted.

Berlin, May 4.—The North German Gazette, commenting on the statement that an invitation to the foreign states for an international coinage conference has been drafted and will shortly be submitted to the Bundesrath, says there is good reason to doubt if the preliminary negotiations between the federal states have reached this stage.

TRADE IS RAPIDLY RECOVERING

R. J. Dun & Company's Reports Say That the Outlook Is Better.

New York, May 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review of Trade says: "Business begins in May in better condition than at any other time since the break down in May, 1893. Smaller in volume than then, it is not shrinking but enlarging. In spite of labor troubles and speculative excesses the outlook brightens; money markets continue healthy, and with heavy sales of railway bonds abroad the deficiency in public revenue, $3,742,840 in April, causes no apprehension."

"Demands for full restoration of wages to the level of 1892 have closed many woolen mills and threaten to close others. The strike which closed iron furnaces at Newcastle, Pa., has just ended without success, but other strikes have stopped numerous works about Pittsburgh. Pocahontas coke workers are on strike, and one is threatened by the Alabama coal miners."

"The speculative fever grows more fierce, as is natural when business starts up with prices at extreme points, but by lifting wheat three cents to 69 cents Atlantic exports have been checked, and flour included, have been only 1,676,197 bushels, against 3,015,485 last year. The close was at 68½ cents. Western receipts are now larger than a year ago, and except in parts of some states the promise for the next yield is excellent. A sale of 200,000 tons by the Fair estate at San Francisco, loading thirty ships for Europe, will lessen other demands on Atlantic supplies. Enormous transactions in cotton have been followed by a decline from 7 to 6.81 cents, though peace in China was represented as insuring a greatly increased demand."

"The strike at Newcastle, now over, stiffened Bessemer pig so that $10.75 was quoted at Pittsburgh, and the closing of a Wheeling mill stiffened billets, while southern makers have nominally advanced their price, though sales have been made here under $10 for No. 2. Another heavy decrease of 11,667 tons in output of coke makes the shrinkage nearly 20 per cent in two weeks, and furnaces offered at 110. Anthracite coal agents agreed to mine only three days of the week in May, but prices are unchanged. Window glass makers have adopted a new scale for the two low brackets, 50 cents higher than before."

"The rise in prices of cotton goods continues. The woolen year ends with the lowest prices yet known, 104 quotations by Coates Bros. averaging 13.47 cents, against 15.32 last year and 22.70 two years ago. Large sales at such prices are natural and in April 11,990,900 pounds of domestic and 11,886,700 of foreign were sold at the three chief markets, against 14,043,558 domestic and 7,775,400 foreign last year. Sales since Jan. 1 have been 92,967,915 pounds, against 88,856,350 in 1892 and less in 1893 and 1894. The demand for woolen goods does not improve and many cancellations are reported, though sales of wool indicate large consumption. The week's failures are 231 in the United States, against 233 last year, and 34 in Canada, against 35 last year."

INGALLS FOR BIMETALLISM.

Ex-Senator Fears the Silver Question May Split the Country.

Galesburg, Ill., May 4.—Ex-Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, when asked his views on the silver question, said: "I have just returned from an extensive trip over the country and after a broad survey of the situation am inclined to believe that if the question were submitted to a popular vote there would be a majority for bimetalism in every state in the union. In other words, it has been my observation that the masses of the people are in favor of the use of silver as one of the money metals of our system. I deprecate the unyielding and uncompromising attitude of the eastern people, who are demanding an adherence to the gold standard, and are heaping abuse on those who favor bimetalism. I believe that a man can be a bimetalist and a patriot, the same as a man who holds to the gold standard. I am afraid that the unbending attitude of the east may eventually lead to a sectional separation. I feel that it is time for the republican party to take a wise, patriotic and comprehensive view of the situation."

TO COME UP MONDAY.

Justice Jackson Will Be Present to Take Part in Income Tax Hearing.

Washington, May 4.—There is no doubt the argument on the income tax in the supreme court will begin Monday. General Wheeler has received a letter from Justice Jackson in which he says his health is so much improved that he hopes for its complete restoration. It has not yet been determined what time shall be given to the hearing, but that will probably be left largely to counsel to decide Monday. Presumably considerable time will also be necessary for the consideration of these cases after the argument shall have been concluded, and to the preparation of the opinion in care any part of the previous opinion should be reversed.

All things considered, therefore, it is probable that final adjournment of the court will not be reached much before the first of June.

Building Collapses at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., May 4.—The rear portion of the five-story brick building at No. 115 Olive street collapsed at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Fully twenty feet of the wall fell into the alley to the east and the upper floors and wall sagged to a dangerous degree. The only support left for the entire rear end of the building was an iron screen, liable to bend and precipitate the whole back portion of the building into the alley. Many of the employees had narrow escapes, but none were injured.

Great Britain May Take a Hand.

St. John's, N. F., May 4.—The British warship Tourmaline, Captain Sir Richard Poore, has left here, having been ordered to proceed to Cuba with all possible dispatch to protect British interests there, which are believed to be endangered during the present rebellion.

FOR HIS LIFE TIME

PLEADED GUILTY AT MINNEAPOLIS THIS MORNING.

Admitted the Killing of Catherine Ging and Was Sentenced to Penal Servitude as Long as He Lives—Oscar Wilde Let Out On $5,000 Bail.

Minneapolis, May 4.—Claus A. Blixt this morning pleaded guilty to the murder of Catherine Ging, and was sentenced to state's prison for life. Blixt was the man who was supposed, to be Hayward's tool.

London, May 4.—Oscar Wilde was today liberated on bonds of $5,000 for his appearance in court.

POWDER MILLS BLOWN UP.

Five Men Reported Killed at South Acton, Mass.

South Acton, Mass., May 4.—Yesterday one of the mills of the American Powder company here blew up. A few minutes later a second mill, situated a hundred yards away, also exploded. Fire caused by the explosion spread to the third mill, known as the Corning mill, and in a few minutes it blew up and was also destroyed. Five persons are believed to have been killed. The woods near the mills were set on fire and burned fiercely, threatening the big storehouse of the company, containing 20,000 pounds of powder and preventing the saving of property.

Fifty men were employed in the mills and when the noise of the first explosion was heard those in the Corning mills, about thirty in number, rushed from the building and escaped before the flames reached it. The mills, ten in number, are separated from each other and inclosed by high board fences. The explosion of the first mill set fire to the surrounding fence and the flames soon spread to the second mill. In fifteen minutes after the first explosion three of the mills had been destroyed.

The list of dead is:

CHARLES O'NEIL, JR., unmarried.

NELSON MORTON, leaves widow and several children.

FREDERICK K. WINSLOW, married.

CHARLES ESTES, unmarried.

A. ESTES, leaves widow and six children.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Very Little Business Transacted at Springfield Yesterday.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—The house yesterday advanced the Chicago drainage bill to a third reading. President Frank Turner and Trustees Eckhart, Boldenwack, Kelly and Gilmore were on the floor at the time. They came to Springfield to be on the ground in case there were any hitch in the proceedings, but were content to stand by and see the bill move smoothly to its last reading. The measure will come up next week. No opposition is anticipated.

The senate passed Little's bill to prevent the spread of diseases among the swine. Bills advanced to third reading were: Leeper's, making chattel mortgages void if usurious interest is charged; amending civil service law; Wells', for the abatement of assessments in districts.

The house reported a joint resolution appointing Speaker Meyer, Lieut. Gov. Gill and C. C. Brown of Springfield a commission to arrange for the formal and public transfer of Lincoln monument to the state.

Both houses adjourned till 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

LOOKS FOR A REVOLT.

Much Excitement and Ill Feeling Manifested at Managua.

Managua, Nicaragua, May 4.—A howling mob is rushing through the streets yelling: "Death to Zelaya and his advisors!" An outbreak is imminent. The troops are confined to the barracks, ready for an emergency. Reinforcements are coming from Leon.

Volunteer companies are forming throughout the country and military aides are going and coming in all directions. The activity of the military indicates that a crisis is approaching.

President Zelaya has called another meeting of leading citizens. Yet there is no doubt that a settlement has been reached with England. The minor details are being arranged by Foreign Minister Matus and British Minister Gosling. England has given some concessions, but the amount of indemnity is unchanged. The government is pleased, but the people are dissatisfied.

British Minister Gosling said yesterday: "England has made slight concessions and has received a guarantee for the payment of the indemnity, which will be made in London. The government of England asked nothing for expenses at Corinto."

HONORS COME THICK FOR GEN. T. H. RUGER

MAY BE MADE GENERAL OF THE ARMY.

The President Has Been Greatly Impressed With His Straightforward Ways and He May Succeed Gen. Schofield As Gen. Miles Is Said to Be In Disfavor.

Major General Thomas Ruger is now very likely to succeed Lieutenant General Schofield as general of the army of the United States, with authority only second to that of the president. A dispatch from Washington to a Chicago paper gives the following interesting facts concerning the Janesville soldier:

"Man Who Talks Once" was the name given by the Crow Indians in the swordbearer campaign in 1887 to General Thomas H. Ruger. The campaign itself made a deep impression on President Cleveland, so it is said, and he was particularly pleased with the Indian sobriquet as an indication of Brigadier General Ruger's determination and straightforwardness. The knowledge that Major General Ruger is on the whole a special favorite with the president has set the gossips in the War department gossiping once more over the new assignments. There is an undercurrent of feeling that General Miles may not come to Washington as the successor of Lieutenant General Schofield and that General Ruger may command the army in effect, if not in name. The discussion has brought out the fact that there is no law to prevent the president from calling the youngest Lieutenant in the army to the duties of the chief command.

May Issue All Orders.

Under the constitution the president is made commander-in-chief of the army. Practically speaking, there is no such officer as general-in-chief. Washington retained active control of the troops long after he became president, and Lincoln never scrupled in the later years of the war to send orders direct to division or corps commanders. When Grant became lieutenant-general he outranked Major-General Halleck, who had command of the army, and so the latter was obliged to issue orders from the special office of chief of staff. Therefore, the gossips, say, there is nothing to prevent President Cleveland from assigning Major-General Ruger to duty at the war department in an advisory capacity, all orders for the army being issued by him, "by direction of the president."

General Miles Less Popular.

General Miles was once supposed to have made some remarks criticizing the president for the disposition of troops during the strike last summer, and, although the offensive criticism was at once denied and disavowed, it seems to be a fact that General Miles is not so popular at the White House as "The Man Who Talks Once." There is good reason for saying that the secret of Ruger's assignment to duty in the war department is as yet only understood by the president and Secretary Lamont. In view of the fact that the new drill regulations which General Ruger is supposed to be detailed to revise could be handled as well at Governor's Island or Chicago as anywhere else, the opinion is growing rapidly that Ruger is the coming man. He was made a brigadier in 1886 by President Cleveland, received his major-general's stars a few weeks ago from the same hand, and apparently is likely to achieve supreme command from the same friendly hand. Whether this be true or not, some of the younger officers say that when Major-General Ruger turns up in Washington they propose to give him an unusually punctilious salute, "just for luck."

Some Plain Truths.

The very fact that we are selling buggies is proof enough that we are selling the best for the least money. Our reputation as "layers of high prices" is good on buggies as well as anything else. If we couldn't sell the cheapest we wouldn't sell at all. The Abbott & Staver buggy has been "pitted" against every other buggy of any note at all in the United States, and has always walked away with the plum. This is the kind of buggy we handle, and ask you to step in and see. Lowell Hardware Co.

PLAYED FOR THE FURNACE FUND

Enjoyable Concert at the Court Street Church—Other Social Notes.

A concert that was thoroughly satisfactory from every point of view was given at the Sunday school room of the Court Street Methodist church last evening, for the benefit of the "furnace fund," and under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Burnham. Misses Irene Bennett, Hattie Rogers, Susie Lowell, Ethel Halsey, Ada Fenton, Clara Spencer, Leona Stevens, May Hyde, Cora McKenzie, Libbie Stoller, May Dewey, Alice Fenton, Maud Goodrich, Rena Dewey, and Mrs. O. H. Brand, were the originators of the affair and it was well carried out. Music by the Arion orchestra opened the programme and was followed by William Garbutt's tenor solo, which won for him an encore. Professor Roland's zither solo came next and he too, was honored with a recall. Professor W. H. Goodhall had the next number and pleased his hearers immensely, while the violin solo by Mrs. F. M. Goodwin, which was next on the schedule was much enjoyed. Miss Clara Spencer's pleasing vocal solo preceded a piano solo by Miss Jessie Foster of the School for the Blind, that won her much praise. Music by the orchestra and a very pretty chorus by the young ladies in Grecian gowns in connection with which calcium lights were used, preceded the concluding portions of the programme which was in the form of tableaux representing "The Forced Prayer," "Hope," "Tisn't Pleasant to Have No Place to Sleep," "Nydia," "Maud Muller," seven scenes taken from Jean Ingelow's "Songs of Seven," Mrs. O. H. Brand reading the poem; "The Three Fates" and a fancy "Good Night" grouping of the young ladies in costume.

THE STATE NEWS IN A LINE.

A man living in Two Rivers, who, when the panic struck the country nearly two years ago, drew all his money, $7,000 from the bank, taking it in gold, and hiding it on the premises. ## Convalescence.

A lazy wag once said, "I can do almost anything—in bed—except get up." After a ravaging illness, which has made waste of all the gladness of physical activity, and when joy seems to have been blotted out of existence by pain, and the echoes of the great world are faint and far, and somehow, lying there in bed, we feel we had nothing to do with it, still, life is sweet! Oh how sweet is life! that returning wave of life which only needs a help, an encouragement, a lift, to blow in a great tide of renewed happiness over our whole being! What, at that moment would be the best and most delightful gift that our faithful nurse or devoted friend should bring to our bedside? An Albemarle Stanhope. Wisconsin Carriage Top Co.

BUT $2,000 NEEDED TO FINISH THE JOB

THE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING IS ALMOST COMPLETE.

That Amount In Good Subscriptions Would Make the $6,000 Proposition Binding—Total Cost Will Be $23,000—Income Will Be $3,000 Annually.

The work of finishing the interior of Janesville's handsome new Y. M. C. A. building is going forward slowly. The plastering is all completed except the last coat. In the basement some of the finish is on, and the hard wood floor of the first floor is now complete. It is to be plain finish, but very substantial and will be very handsome. The cement floor in the basement where the bath rooms are to be located, is of the best Portland cement and is now hard enough for use. The bathing fixtures can be placed in a very short time as everything is ready to set them and make connections. There is only one reason why this cannot be done in the next two weeks. It is the $6,000 that is subscribed on conditions that the whole amount be raised in good subscriptions to complete the building free of all debt.

Only $2,000 is needed in good subscriptions to clean up everything and complete the building, including the introduction of water, heat and lighting means and fixtures, and Janesville people could be proud of one of the handsomest buildings for her young men of any city of the same size in the country. What is worthy of mention, there is not one foot of room in the whole building that will not be utilized. It has been carefully estimated that not less than $3,000 can be realized annually from this work for its support without asking for any outside contributions. The auditorium will seat eight hundred people and a gallery can be thrown around the auditorium at any time that will give a seating capacity of about one thousand. The dormitories are of value and the baths and gymnasiums will be the best in the country. With this small amount yet to be raised, those who have not yet subscribed, could very easily clear these conditions and not feel it, but it would be a life time blessing individually and as a community.

The building when completed will cost $23,000, and when you consider that $21,000 in absolutely good subscriptions have been raised, those who have not yet given should sacrifice if necessary and lift this burden of anxiety and expectation at once.

BABY CONTEST OPEN BALLOTS IN DEMAND

THE CONTEST.

Five Shares of Stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association Will be Given the Winner June 1—Value at Maturity Is $500 and It Is Non Assessable.

The polls for The Gazette contest for the babies is now open and the ballot will be found at the close of this article and will run until June 1, when the contest will close. Much interest is centered in The Gazette's offer to present the baby who gets the highest number of votes with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association. It is a prize worth getting, for naturally it will be worth just half a thousand dollars. That will be a nice nest egg if kept at interest after maturity until the child becomes old enough to want to use it.

It will buy an education.
It will buy a building lot.
It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.
It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.

Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened this morning and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Out the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines). Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more than three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

The Publishers of "The Janesville Gazette" will give 5 Shares of stock in the Rock County Building, Loan & Savings Association to the Baby who receives the largest number of ballots.

—ONE VOTE FOR—

Of Janesville, Wis.

A Hop, Skip and Jump.

An athletic caper of this sort would scarcely be considered indecorous in one, even of mature age and sedate habits, impelled thereto by excess of joy on recovering his digestion through the instrumentality of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among remedies for dyspepsia, biliousness and constipation, a trio of evils usually found in conjunction with each other. As the stomach recovers its tone, and the gastric juices are secreted in healthful plenitude through the agency of this superb restorative, nerve tranquility, appetite and sleep return, the body gains in substance and the muscles in vigor. For the prevention and cure of malarious, rheumatic and kidney trouble the Bitters is a most direct and thoroughgoing medicinal agent. Its effects are speedily felt and comprehensive.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind, colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

GENERAL GRANT'S TOMB.

If the Work Is Progressing Slowly It Is Being Done Well.

It has been asserted by so many people that work on the tomb of General Grant is progressing slowly that a reporter called upon General Horace Porter, who is president of the Grant memorial association, to inquire into the matter. General Porter said: "Those who say that the monument is being delayed unnecessarily do not understand what they are talking about. A little over two years ago, $410,000 were raised by popular subscription, and the work was begun at once. The first difficulty was to provide a granite that should be sufficiently pure, light, and durable. After a six months search by experts, a powerful granite for the purpose was found at North Jan. Me. The soundness of the stone was a matter of absolute necessity. A single speck is enough to condemn an entire block. Nearly all the stone is quarried and about half is dressed. The foundations are twenty-seven feet deep. The structure is forty-five feet above ground now. It will be 165 feet high, in all. To be sure the work is progressing slowly, for we take no chance with frost. The monument should be completed by Dec. 1, 1895. I believe the work will be performed before that date. In the meantime the fund is drawing interest at three per cent."

PLAN OF VENTILATION.

That of Massachusetts Schools Sure to Be Excellent.

The plan of ventilating school houses in Massachusetts possesses, it is asserted, possibilities of insuring first-class results, even when, from certain unavoidable obstacles, only one inlet is provided, the same being located about eight feet above the floor, and as nearly as practicable in the center of the warm or inner side of the room. Of equal importance with the inlets is the size of the outlets, or foul air ducts, as well as their location, and it is found that for a fifty-foot schoolroom the outlet duct should have an area of not less than five square feet net, this to be placed at the bottom or inner side, in case the air is to be taken from the first story down to the bottom of the foul air shaft in the basement. The rule is that in a room with two cold or exposed sides the outlet should be as near the inner or warm angle of the room as possible, and, in a room with three exposed sides, the outlet should be as near the inner or warm side as practicable, this applying equally well whether the warm air is brought in through either one or two inlets. It is desirable that the outflow of air from the room through the outlet should be a little in excess of the amount brought in at the warm-air inlet, the difference being made up by air drawn into the room through cracks and various small openings.

A Centenarian Donkey.

Herbivorous animals are generally thought to outlive carnivorous ones, and of the former class those dedicated to labor appear to furnish the largest number of instances of longevity. A few years ago a donkey died at Cromarty which was known to be at least 106 years old. It could be traced back to the year 1779, when, at an unknown age, it came into the hands of the then Ross of Cromarty, and it lived in the same family " hale and hearty," until a kick from a horse ended its career. No horse is known to have attained to anything like such an age as this, but a few have lived to ages varying from 40 to 50 years.

She Told Him the Reason Why.

"Why is it that you girls seem to think so much more of the men who come in here than you do of the women?" asked the man with an interrogation point in his mind. "Is it because the men are more agreeable?" "Oh, no," replied the saleslady, with a toss of her head. "It is because the men are such ninnyes that they don't know what things are worth. If they do it doesn't matter, if you only appear to think they're awfully bright or awfully good looking."

"A Word To the Wise Is Sufficient."

I suffered terribly from a roaring in my head during an attack of catarrh, and became very deaf. I used Ely's Cream Balm, and in three weeks could hear as well as ever.—A. E. Newman, Graling, Mich.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from the nose. Physicians prescribed without benefit. After using Cream Balm a short time the disease was cured. O. A. Cary, Corning, N. Y.

DEMOCRACY'S LAST RESORT.

The silver agitation going on all over the country in the ranks of the democratic party indicates very clearly the desperate straits to which the party is driven. Never in its history has democracy been so entirely demoralized. With a president and a majority of his cabinet backed by many prominent party leaders, arrayed against the silver movement, the issue is forced upon them, and the contest promises to be prolonged and lively.

The tariff reform movement has so thoroughly disgruntled the party in its stronghold, the south, that grave fears are entertained for future success and harmony, and the silver craze is expected to make good the depleted ranks from the western states.

It is fortunate for the country that the national campaign is eighteen months away, because ample time will be found to explode the heresies and inconsistencies with which the free silver doctrine abounds. Free silver like free trade, is very naturally a popular theory and men take to both without much thought or mental calculation. With free trade goods would be cheap, wheat would be high in price, labor would be plenty and well paid and the country would enjoy unprecedented prosperity.

With free silver, money will be plenty, wheat and all other products will command a good price, labor won't be very important, because money will be so abundant, and everybody will be happy.

Two years has demonstrated beyond question the fallacy of the free trade argument. The theory is glittering, but the practice is ruinous, and yet two years of tariff reform is a blessing, compared to half that length of time with the blighting curse of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The first possesses some principles of common honesty, while the latter is destitute of even a semblance of that virtue.

Democracy rode the free trade theory to the verge of party destruction. It will find no trouble in completing the journey in good style, astride of the free silver hobby. The republican party can afford to bid them God speed en route.

When England starts out on a collecting tour with war ships as an argument, she evidently means business. Nicaragua was brought to time in short order, and compelled to pay an unjust claim of $75,000. Honduras will shortly receive a call for $3,000,000, which the little republic is in no condition to pay, and for which she is not morally obligated. If the present administration of this country possessed well developed Americanism it would be better for Central America.

It is now claimed by Senator Morgan, of Alabama, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, that the man Hanch, for whom England is forcibly demanding $75,000, was not a consul, but simply an English adventurer, spending his time in stirring up strife among the negroes, and ordered out of the country by the authorities of Nicaragua. He was neither punished or hanged, as he deserved. Senator Morgan intimates that the United States needs just now an American statesman at the head of it.

The loss for eight months under the new tariff bill is more than $51,000,000. Professor Wilson ought to be thankful that he has a steady job in the postoffice department. The commercial world would have but little use for him.

Russia, France and Germany, like a flock of vultures are making an effort to capture Chinese spoils from Japan. The little nation possesses statesmanship, as well as nerve, and will be equal to the occasion.

Speaker Crisp is in favor of free coinage, and says that he represents the sentiment of the democratic party on that question. He should be encouraged.

Nearly 41,000,000 public documents of various kinds were printed last year by the government printing office, at an expense of nearly $3,000,000.

Senator Vest of Missouri has invested in 500 copies of Cain's financial school and is on the war path with his 16 to 1 hatchet.

History will record that the present administration lacks several of the essential elements of true Americanism.

The largest copper mine in the Lake Superior country, produced fifteen and one half million pounds of copper last year at a cost of 5 1/2 cents a pound, paying a dividend of $400,000. This was accomplished without government aid or free coinage.

The Cleveland doctrine seems to have taken the place of the Monroe doctrine, in this progressive age.

Democracy is making it extremely easy for independents, and disaffected republicans to return to the G. O. P.

Texas is now praying for dry weather. Rain and hail have deluged the state for the past week.

California raised $50,000,000 worth of fruit last year and $40,000,000 in gold bullion.

Nebraska had two inches of rainfall in thirty-five minutes last Sunday.

STRIKE STILL ON IN COTTON MILLS

EMPLOYEES GOT THEIR APRIL SALARIES TODAY.

The Trouble is As Far From Settlement As Ever and the Chances For the Plant's Starting Up Are Rather Slim—General News Of the Town.

Between three and four hundred people recently employed in the cotton mills, congregated at the factory office at North Franklin street this afternoon and received their pay for the month of April. Both factories are now idle and the indications are that they will remain so for some time. The employees insist on the 10 per cent advance before they will resume work, and the managers say that the company is unable to accede. Unless some satisfactory settlement is arrived at by arbitration or otherwise, the factories will not resume business very soon.

FRIENDSHIP don't count when it costs money to keep it. A person is not right who will not go and buy where he can get a dollar's worth for fifty cents. This may seem fishy, but if you'll take the time to come in we'll put our time against yours, and if we can't prove to you that we are selling the best makes of shoes in the world at 50 cents on the dollar we'll close up. Becker & Woodruff.

MARTIN SET FREE BY JUDGE PHELPS

DIDN'T POINT A REVOLVER AT EDWARD MOORE.

Case Grows Out of the Ryan Farm Trouble and Has Been Balanced In the Scales of Justice All Day—Jay Jones Charged With Embezzlement—Suspects Jailed.

Edward Moore and John Martin occupied seats in the opposite side of Judge Phelps' judicial scales this morning and up to 3 o'clock this afternoon neither had outweighed the other. Then Mr. Martin stowed a little testimony in his side of the machine. It sagged down, and Judge Phelps accordingly discharged him.

"My wife and I rode up to my place and found Martin there, and he sez he 'Halt! If you attempt to drive in here I'll shoot you!'"

That was Moore's story.

"I did not make any threat of the kind," Mr. Martin explained in a mild mannered tone of voice. "You see, your honor I was moving and among my other household effects was a revolver."

That was Martin's story and the two made the whole case.

The prosecution grew out of the trouble between the two men in regard to which of them held the lease of James Ryan's Plymouth farm. While Moore was away Martin took possession and put Moore's goods into the road. When Moore came home, he says, Martin told him that his place "was with his stuff in the highway," and backed up the statement with the nickel plated fire-arm.

The trouble took place on April 21. Jay Jones in Trouble Again.

The next case was that of the state against Jay Jones, charged with embezzlement, which was continued until May 9, the defendant giving bail in the sum of $350 with J. H. Lanier as surety. This is Jones' second alleged offense, he having already served three months in the county jail for larceny, being sentenced by the circuit court.

Chief Acheson, Patrolman Hogan and Sheriff Appleby took the official drag net of the city out for an airing last night. About the first cast they made filled the net with fish of various kinds, and the scaly load was taken to the jail to be sorted out. Six of them proved to be hard looking citizens of the genus hobo, who had no visible means of support, and were proud of it, so they were cast into the corridor to sleep on the sandstone floor. Among the other fish, however, were two slick gentlemen who staggered under the rather burdensome names of "Sheeney Red" and "Maxey Dood."

These gentlemen, while not exactly close acquaintances of the sheriff, were not unknown to the official. They had been summer visitors at the somewhat famous Beloit summer resort that advertised in the Police Gazette as "The Willows." The sheriff's knowledge of these men led him to believe that possibly they might know something about how the store of an Albany firm came to be robbed, so they clapped them into cells, too. Officers from Albany will be here tonight to take a look at them.

MAXCY RUNS THE WATER PLANT.

Pat in Charge of the Portage Works as Receiver by the Court.

W. G. Maxcy, formerly manager of the Janesville Water Company's plant, is now in charge of the works of the Portage Company, he being named as the receiver of that concern, and appointed by the United States district court upon the application of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, of New York.

The trust company held two mortgages against the company for $125,000 and for $300,000. The water works defaulted in the payment of the interest due on the first mortgage January 1, 1894, and semi-annually since.

Upon the second mortgage given to secure the issue of bonds, only $13,000 in bonds were issued January 1, 1892, upon which the default has been complete.

JOB OF MAIL WEIGHING IS ENDED.

The Result of Thirty Days Work Shows An Increased Amount.

Tonight at midnight the weighing of the railway mail pouches will cease, and the weighers will be relieved of their thirty days' work. The weighing, in order to ascertain the amount of mail and the number of pounds per mile over the railroad, in order to fix the compensation of the carriers for the next four years, was begun April 1. As but little mail is hauled on Sundays, no weighing was made on those days, and the first four days of May were taken to complete the required thirty days. It will take the half a dozen clerks engaged in computing the weigher's returns at least three months to make up a report. There is a large increase in the mail since the last weighing.

MANY ALARM BOXES DISABLED BY A BOLT

LIGHTNING DID CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE TODAY.

City Electrician Kline Was Thrown Twelve Feet By the Current That Melted the Repeater's Safety Fuses—The Damage Cannot Be Told Until All the Lines Are Inspected.

A bolt of lightning played hob with the fire alarm system, City Electrician Kline, and the telephone wires this afternoon. As a result the electrician still has a buzzing sound in his ears; all the boxes except 51, north of Milwaukee street on the west side are out of order, and the telephone linemen are busy making repairs. The crash came a few minutes after 1 o'clock. Kline was standing at the little alcove which contains the repeater of the fire alarm service, watching that delicate instrument, and fearing that an electrical current might strike the instrument, when the bolt of lightning entered the station. The "fuse" blocks were melted, and then followed an explosion. Kline was thrown about twelve feet, landing underneath the hose wagon, with his head against the springs. When he crawled out he realized that considerable damage had been done, and that the bolt was full of ginger.

Much Damage Done.

A hasty examination disclosed the fact that lightning had materially damaged the fire alarm machinery in the First ward, including the repeater and switchboard in the central station. The extent of the damage has not been ascertained, and cannot be until a thorough examination of the boxes and machinery is completed.

For the present, however, all the boxes north of Milwaukee street, except box 51, on the west side of the river, are out of order, while the repeater was somewhat damaged. Repairs will be made as soon as possible, but it will probably take a day or two. In the meantime, parties discovering a fire in any part of the territory on the west side north of Milwaukee street, are requested to communicate with the fire station by telephone, in case the alarm box is not in place. Undoubtedly the damage will be repaired by tomorrow.

Many telephones were disabled by the same bolt. Manager Willitz is unable at this time to give the number of instruments injured, as a number of lines are melted down, and communications are cut off.

Gentlemen:—

We value Milkine very highly. We had tried feeding our baby on milk and other food. She always seemed hungry and did not thrive at all. We were advised by a friend to try Milkine. This agreed with her perfectly. She is now growing and is strong and healthy. We believe Milkine to be superior to anything of the kind for children.

HELD UP.

By ROBERT BARR.

(Copyright, 1894, by the Author.)

This is not my story, and I have really no business to write it. It belongs to the railway manager. He ought to tell it, but he won't. A railway manager will not admit in print that trains are ever "held up" on his road, whatever may happen on the opposition line. Thus it comes that I have to set down the story, who should not. Besides I cannot write it down in such a way as to indicate the snap and go of the narrative told us by the railway manager, for he was drunk at the time, and no sober man, with a pen in his hand, can emulate the eloquence of a railway manager when the champagne flows. Of course a sober railway manager would not tell an incident that might frighten traffic away from his road, so you have to learn these things from them when

"What's the row here?" they are half seas over. The story is strictly true, because I related it to the manager next day (he was suffering from headache), and he admitted its accuracy.

He implored me not to tell the story, and I will not. I merely write it. Hang a man who won't keep his pledged word with even a railway manager!

The railway runs through a wild part of North Carolina, and Tompkins had been manager of it for some years. It is a picturesque line and gets itself tangled up among the mountains in the most bewildering way. The train puffs and staggers up awful grades, winds and twists and doubles on itself in the most confusing fashion, goes round and round cuplike depressions, and seems, in general, not to know where it is going; but, like the person in the song, it "gets there just the same."

The road passes through some pretty rough settlements, but there are civilization and wealth at each end of the line, and these enable the railway to pay a good salary to the manager, although I never heard that it so far forgot itself as to pay any dividends to the shareholders.

Well, one day there were a lot of nabobs going east, and as the manager was also traveling in that direction he ordered his private car hitched to the noon express, and away they went.

A private car, the manager tells me, differs from an ordinary coach and is superior in some respects even to the aristocratic Pullman. A good deal, of course, depends on the manager. If the manager is a prohibition man—but, then, what is the use of discussing the improbable? Tompkins knows them all, and he says a railway manager is content if the engine drivers and trainmen are teetotalers without carrying the temperance fad to extremes. By extremes Tompkins means the rear end of the train, where the manager's private car is coupled. Anyhow I am given to understand that the interior decorations of a manager's car are very fine and expensive, including artistic effects in Burgundy, dry champagne, fine, delicate brands of old Kentucky, cigars from Havana and things of that sort.

The time of this memorable trip was a few days before Christmas, and people were going east to see their folks, many of the travelers having considerable amounts of money on them. Besides this there was $400,000 in the safe of the express car going through to New York. This fact made the manager a trifle anxious, and it was one of the causes that were bringing him east. However, the train would be out of the mountains while it was still daylight, so the manager felt no real anxiety.

All the nabobs who amounted to anything were in his private car, and they were enjoying themselves, as people should during that festive season, but not, if I understood Tompkins aright, entirely by admiring the scenery, although doubtless that added to their pleasure.

Just as they were in the roughest part of the mountains there was a wild shriek of the whistle, a sudden scrum of the airbrakes, and the train, with an abruptness that was just short of an accident, stopped.

"What's up?" cried everybody. "I don't know," said the manager, getting a little pale around the gills. "You all stay here, and I'll go out and see."

It need hardly be said that none of the passengers knew of the money in the express car.

The manager stepped down from his private coach at the rear, and the moment he looked toward the front of the train he saw his worst fears were realized. Just ahead of the locomotive, on the rails, was a huge pile of logs and railway ties. Standing around the engine and the express car was a group of the most villainous looking mountaineers the manager had ever seen, determined and desperate men, who could put a bullet in a man half a mile away.

All were armed with their long rifles, and two had their weapons at their shoulders, while the trembling express messenger and the engineer stood with their hands above their heads.

"What's wrong?" cried a nabob who had followed the manager out.

"Everything's wrong. We're held up, that's what's wrong. Go back and tell the rest to conceal their valuables. I know what they're after. There's nearly $500,000 in gold on board. I'll go forward and parley with them as long as possible, so as to give you time. I imagine that if they break open the safe they'll be in a big hurry to get away and will leave the passengers alone. Still, I don't know, so warn everybody."

There is no question but the manager was a brave man. He went briskly forward, as if nothing particular was wrong and it was all a little mistake that could be explained away in a few words. As he walked the length of the train he made up his mind to sacrifice the $400,000 if by so doing he could prevent bloodshed and further robbery.

"What's the row here?" he cried cheerfully as he approached the gloomy group of mountaineers.

"Who are you, anyhow?" asked the man who was "covering" the express messenger.

"Who am I? I'm the manager of this railroad. What do you fellows mean by stopping one of my trains?"

The man lowered his rifle and looked at the manager.

"What's the matter with you?" added Tompkins.

"The matter's just this, Mr. Manager. You run the gold darndest railroad in all creation. That's what's the matter, an we ain't a-goin to stand it no longer. I don't mind your trainmen throwin coal at my dog, I don't mind 'em sassing my wife an makin fun of my clothes, but when it comes to monkeying with my whisky I'm dod gasted if I'm a-goin to stand it."

The other mountaineers nodded their approval of these sentiments.

"Monkeying with your whisky? What do you mean?" cried the bewildered manager.

"I mean just what I say. They can throw coal at my dog, they can sass my—"

"Yes, yes, but I don't understand about the whisky. What have my men to do with your whisky?"

"Why, don't you know, and you manager of the road? Well, moonshine whisky's all right enough ordinary days, but we allus has good old Kentucky for Christmas. Day before yesterday I gave your man in this here kyar a jug an $2 to bring me some prime Kentucky from town fur Christmas. Yesterday bang through goes your train, jug an whisky an all, an never stops. Now, we ain't a-goin to stand that from no road that ever tooted a whistle to scare the steers. I said I'd bet my boots next train'd stop, an she has. I don't allow no man to monkey with my likker. He kin sass my wife an chuck coal!"

"See here," said the manager to the expressman, "did you take his $2?"

"Twan't me," said the messenger.

"Must have been Bill Simmons on No. 9, and she must have gone through without stopping yesterday."

"Then all you want is your whisky?" asked the manager, with a sigh of relief.

"Fair's fair, boss. 'Tisn't Christian-like to drink moonshine this time of the year. Besides he's got my $2 an the jug."

"That's all right," cried the manager. "Have we got a jug on the train?"

"Here's one," said the mountaineer, taking a jug from behind a log. They had been refreshing themselves while waiting for the train.

The manager grasped it by the handle, turned it upside down and let the remains of the "moonshine" gurgle out, to the horror of the mountaineers. Then he started through the train, shouting: "Here, you men with flasks! I want half your stock! Pour it in here and be glad to get off so cheaply!"

Every man who had a bottle produced it, and before Tompkins had gone through two cars the jug was brimming full. He went back to the leader, who now allowed the engineer and expressman to hold down their hands.

"Taste that," said Tompkins.

The mountaineer smacked his lips after sampling the contents. "That's a good blend," he said, with solemn reverence.

"Blend? You bet it's a blend. I've blended it myself. There's a sample of every known brand in the States there. Now, tomorrow I give you my word

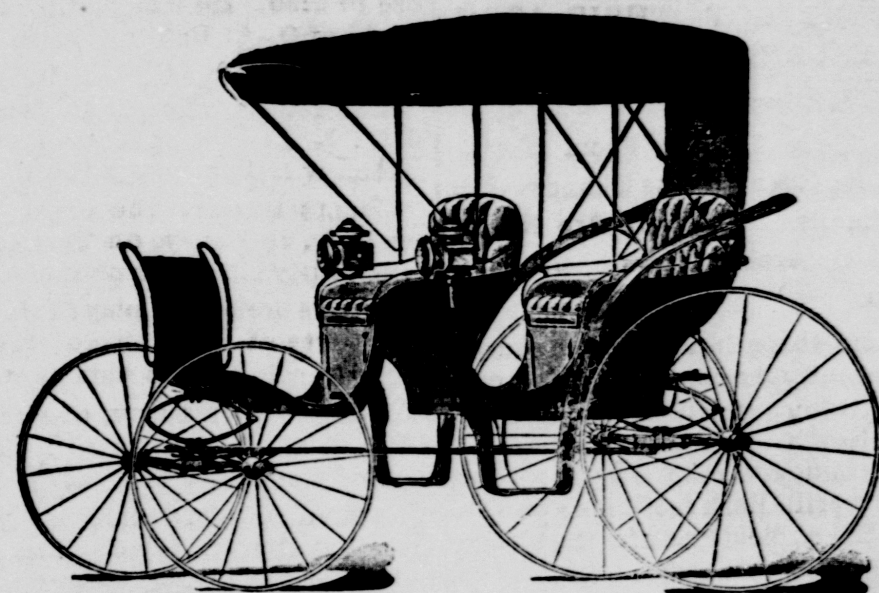

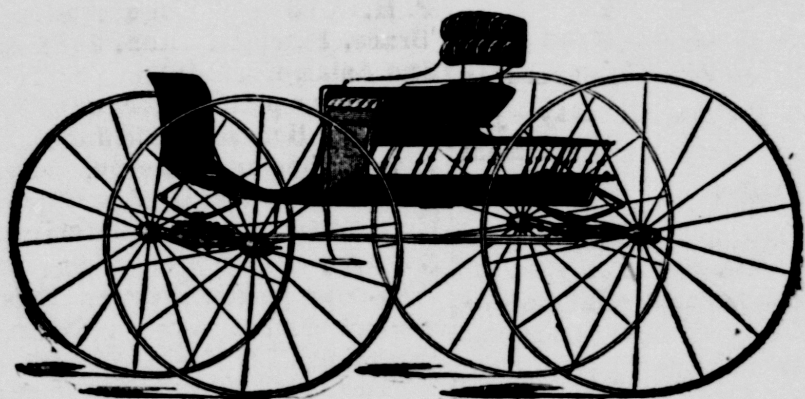

"I want half your stock." that No. 9 stops and unships your jug, or there'll be a row. Is that all right?"

"It's all right, boss," said the leader, who had given the word. Thereupon his lank company had flung the old ties and tree trunks clear of the track.

"You're a white man, if you are the manager of this road. An your men can make fun of my clothes an sass my wife all they've a-mind to an heave the company's coal at my dog as long as they know you ain't a-goin to let 'em monkey with my whisky."

Statue of William Penn Revives Interest in One of Roger Williams.

The placing of a colossal figure of William Penn on the Philadelphia city hall has inspired a proposal to perpetuate the memory of Roger Williams, in the same way on the dome of Rhode Island's new statehouse. It is now recalled that the Roger Williams monument association started a fund thirty-four years ago to erect a memorial column 230 feet high on Prospect hill. Zachariah Allen in his diary of that time says with amusing ignorance of the problem presented by the convexity of the earth. "A statue on the top of this column would stand nearly 450 feet above tidewater. It would be conspicuous from Newport and Block Island, and I think from the statehouse in Boston." Thus, it was suggested would the capital of the colony which disgraced its intelligence by the banishment of Williams, be forever doomed to find his figure still within sight. The association failed to raise money enough to put up the column, but the sum was deposited in bank and has now increased to a considerable sum. There seems to be an impression that the top of the statehouse would be an appropriate place for Roger Williams and the association is advised to transfer its fund to the state if the government will agree to thus honor him and will also bind itself to erect a statue elsewhere to another great Rhode Islander, who has been neglected, General Greene of revolutionary fame.

A MODERN SAPHO.

She Jumped From a Tall Cliff to End Her Life's Woes.

Some few days ago, writes an Odessa correspondent a young and pretty and elegantly attired girl of about 17 years of age, named Anna Popova, engaged a boatman at the Grafski landing stage at Sebastopol to take her to the monastery at Inzer-mann. On alighting at the rocky stairway leading up to the monastery the girl gave the boatman a pour-boire of 10 coopeks, promising to send out by a servant the 80 coopeks for her fare. The boatman waited from 11 o'clock until noon, and was going ashore to inquire for his passenger, when she suddenly appeared upon the summit of the towering rock above the monastery, making signs to the boatman below. On approaching nearer to the base of the cliff he was desired to deliver a letter which the girl flung down to him. At once divining her suicidal intention, the boatman ran into the monastery and raised an alarm.

A number of monks immediately came out and entreated the girl to descend from her perilous position, while one of their number ascended the tortuous acclivity and the unhappy girl sprang from the dizzy height of over a hundred feet and was killed instantly. It is stated that the poor child was driven to the dreadful act by constant ill-treatment at home. Her father was a captain in the reserves.

Customer—Then how do you make any money?

Jeweler—Repairing 'em.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Milyn Haire—My daughter Blanche returns from Europe to-day, sir. Make arrangements for a stunning reception to her. I give you carte blanche.

His Secretary—I would be perfectly satisfied, sir, if you would only give me Blanche.—Truth.

Accounted For.

Bingly—Stacy seems to be mightily fond of his wife of late.

Snags—Well, no wonder. Since the financial depression she has become her own maid, and for the life of him he can't keep from kissing her.—N. Y. World.

NOW, THE TIME TO MAKE MONEY.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $233.38; the month before $186.36 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Blouses With Tucked Cambric Yokes.

The blouse is a greater favorite than ever and shows every new phase of development. It is a most becoming and adaptable garment and may be made of all sorts of material in all sorts of combination, being capable of every variety of ornamentation. The newest and most fashionable ones have exquisite yokes, some richly ornamented with imitation jewels, some made of the finest of tucks in the finest of French cambric, with insets of embroidery or lace. The entire blouse is often made of finely tucked chiffon. Then there is the blouse of soft satin, with gilet of chiffon veiled in fine lace, and mirror velvet puff sleeves, with lace armlets over satin.

Collars also are made of this fine French cambric, tucked and with lace insets. They are large enough to cover the shoulders, are carefully fitted, have a lace trimmed throat band and are trimmed with inch wide lace all around. The favorite shape is square. These collars are worn on dress occasions, over velvet or satin bodices. There is a certain refinement about delicate cate cambric and fine lace in combination which heavy gillies, however expensive, or flimsy chiffons fail to achieve. Linen cambric and fine valenciennes, for instance—the valenciennes being real, of course—have a delicacy combined with lastingsness which is most pleasing. All truly refined things or persons wear well. They endure reasonable usage without giving way under it and are to be depended upon for their face value. Every genuine woman must have felt the charm of fine, old lace and muskings that have been darned over and over and are still dignified and patrician looking. It is the great fault of modern fashion that, changing so quickly itself, it causes a flimsiness in ornamentation—it is not worth while for any except the unusually wealthy to buy good furs or fine lace or heavy, rich materials, because in another year these special varieties will be out of date.

The hat of which a sketch is given is of black Italian straw, with a wide, straight brim. It is lined with almond velvet and edged with black velvet. At the front of the crown, which is quite high, a cluster of three black plumes is placed, held by a paste ornament. A branch of roses with foliage is placed at the back.

SUMMER FASHIONS.

Spangles of Every Tint—Pearl Embroidered Lace Yokes.

Spangle ornamentation in all metallic tints has lost nothing of its fashionable favor. Lace and chiffons may be purchased thus adorned.

The new bonnets and toques are adorned with immense flowers in a variety of shades. There are also ornaments of different kinds, usually consisting of a set of pointed wings in light metal, purple, steel, blue, gold, ruby or some other color.

Lace heavily ornamented with pearls is in great demand. Yokes made entirely of jeweled lace are also in vogue.

Pique is to be much worn this summer, and is to be had in solid colors and in striped and figured patterns.

Belts are as fashionable this summer as they were last year, and are to be found in all tones of silk, kid and leather, with silver or covered buckles.

Dotted Swiss muslin, formerly to be had only in white, is now obtainable in various delicate and brilliant tints with dots white, black or self colored.

There is a fancy for making evening bodices half of chiffon and half of gypure, but these bizarre effects are never in the best taste.

It is said that the new, very thin crepons now being brought out for summer wear may be washed. They are all wool and about the weight of fun's veiling. They may be obtained in cream, blue, rose, lilac, pale green and yellow and are not at all expensive.

Military cutters are now perfect flower gardens and natural bosoms are marvelously well imitated in cambric, silk and velvet. The foliage is no less true to nature and is quite as beautiful as the flowers.

The woman's figure in the sketch wears a long cloak of beige amazon cloth. The front is double-breasted and is held in with small plaits at the waist. The garment is open over the chest and is fastened below by large buttons. The little girl's coat is of old rose wool and is mounted in plaits on a round yoke. A gypure bertha borders the yoke and gypure covers the cuffs.

Sectional Bitterness.

Texas (at the grocery store)—What do you call them things?

Grocer—Those are olives.

"Are they good to eat?"

"Certainly! Try one of them."

What the Neighbors Would Say.

Little Grace had very curly hair, and it was a great trial to her to get it combed. One day during this process she was crying and making a greater disturbance than usual, when her mother said:

"What will the neighbors say when they hear you making such a noise?"

Pausing in her weeping she replied in broken accents:

"They will say: 'Why don't that woman spank that child!'"—Texas Siftings.

Real Heroism.

"Willie," said his mother, "your clothes are wet; you've been in the water."

"Yessum," said little Willie, bravely; "I went in and saved little Charlie Stebbins."

"My noble boy!" said his proud mother; "did you jump in after him?"

"No'm," said little Willie, proudly; "I jumped in first so as to be there when he fell in."—Chicago Record.

Saidso—He was out of town for a week, and when he came back found his wife, during his absence, had raffled off the furniture and skipped out, and he has now been indicted for allowing gambling on his premises.—Brooklyn Life.

Dangerous Symptoms.

"I fear that Maud is developing 'new woman' tendencies," said the anxious mother.

"What has she been doing?" asked the father, in genuine alarm. "Been wanting bloomers?"

"O, not so bad as that. But she used a buttonhook instead of a hairpin this morning to fasten her shoes."—Cincinnati Tribune.

Bill is Always Big.

Tupenny—There are certainly some strange inconsistencies in life.

Mrs. Tupenny—What are you driving at?

Tupenny—I was thinking about how out of proportion is your new spring bonnet to the size of the bill for it.—Town Topics.

Lady Visitor—Well, Maisie, I have come after that new baby. You know you told me last week that you didn't want it and that I could take it home. Maisie—Well, you can't have it. I want it myself now, but I'll get you a piece of paper and you can cut a pattern.—Mercury.
